

JOHN RICH KILLED IN VIETNAM

PFC John A. Rich, USMC, died of wounds in Vietnam, on August 25th. He was felled by a bullet in the abdomen, near Phu Loi, and died shortly afterward.

A native of Wilmington, born on May 7, 1946, he is the only Wilmington casualty in the Vietnam war.

PFC Rich was widely known in Wilmington. His father, William, operated a trucking service and a garage in this town for many years before moving recently to Arizona. The family had made its home for over 20 years at 669 Main Street.

He was a graduate of Wilmington High School, class of 1964, and had been a prominent member of the High School Band. After graduating he went to work for his father, before enlisting in the US Marine Corps on January 10th of this year, in company with Francis Mullin of High Street.

Rich completed his boot training at Parris Island, South Carolina, and then visited his parents in Mesa, Arizona, before reporting for duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif. He left for Vietnam in early June and arrived there the same month.

He was in action many times in the 'Seek and Destroy' operations of the Marine Corps, participating in both Operation Colorado and Operation Hastings. It was in the latter operation that he received his fatal wound.

PFC Rich's body is being returned to the United States. The funeral services will take place in Mesa, Arizona, and burial will be in the Green Acres Cemetery in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Besides his parents, William and Ivy (Hammond) Rich he is survived by two sisters, Mrs Marie Lane of Maine and Miss Charlotte Rich of Mesa, Arizona; two brothers, Staff Sgt. William Rich of U.S. Marine Corps, who was wounded while serving in Vietnam, and Walter, who served in the U.S. Navy.

There are seven aunts, Mrs Bella McCloy, 13 Willow Street, Mrs Charlotte Anderson, 19 Willow Street and Mrs Cassie McElhinney, 11 Williams Court, all of Woburn; Mrs Elizabeth Nelson, 828 Rundale Ave, Yeadon, Pa., Mrs Rose Teeter of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs Minnie Travalini of New York City.

Also surviving are two uncles, Adam James Hammond of Eastern Avenue in Woburn, and Hebert Hammond of Toronto, Canada.

A FLOURISH FOR THE GOVERNOR: The Wilmington Crusaders helped to greet Gov. John A. Volpe yesterday afternoon, when he paid a visit to the new Wilmington Ford Building on Main Street, to dedicate New England's largest sales building for automobiles.

BOOKMOBILE WILL CALL: At Hathaway Acres Friday Sept. 9 at 3 pm.

Money to replace Wilmington Bridges

Rep Fred F. Cain has advised Town Manager Dick Henneberger that the sum of $180,000 is in the Capital Outlay Budget (Item 2940-38), out of a total of $10 millions, for the replacement of three bridges in the Town of Wilmington.

This is an increase over the sum formerly voted.

$80,000 had been appropriated for Nichols Street Bridge, as the

DiCenso and the Usen Dam

A pond, located on the Woburn-Wilmington line, but mostly in Woburn, has become the latest blocking point in the development of an industrial subdivision, in South Wilmington.

The DiCenso Brothers are hoping to have a road through from Woburn Street to West Street, along with other facilities, in September. One firm, LTV Ling-Altec is ready to move into a 50,000 square foot building in September and other firms are reportedly negotiating to buy space in the Industrial Park.

At a hearing about a month ago, required by the provisions of the Hatch Act several abutting land owners were present - not, as they said, to put difficulties in the way for the DiCenso Brothers, but rather to protect their own rights.

One of these firms, the Usen Canning Company, is now claiming that the DiCenso project will probably injure an earthen dam, in Woburn - the dam that holds back the water that forms the pond on the Woburn-Wilmington line.

The dam was constructed about 20 years ago by an earlier owner. At one time General Foods owned both the business and facilities of what is now the Usen Canning Co. and part of the land that makes up the Route 93 Northern Industrial Park of the DiCenso Brothers.

The Usen Company prepares canned cat food, from fish scraps which it buys in Boston and Gloucester. The water in the pond is an accessory use in their canning processes, being used as a coolant.

It is understood that the land formerly owned by the General Food Corporation, and now owned by the DiCenso Brothers was sold without any provision affecting the drainage of the land being in the deed - and this is the crux of the

Tradesmen are Playoff Champs

Highlighted by steady pitching, superlative defensive play and timely, if not awesome hitting, the Wilmington Tradesmen quickly disposed of Reading last weekend, and were named the Playoff Champions of the Carling Inter-city League for 1966.

Saturday's game at Wilmington was won by the home team, 5-3. Jeff Williamson started on the mound for the Tradesmen and held Reading hitless for the first four innings, while Wilmington was scoring four quick runs.

Added to Kevin Field's eight run-less, hit-less innings against Reading the previous Sunday, this meant that the neighboring townies

Jim Melzar with two runs, Tom Payne with two hits and two walks, and Catcher Normie Heinze with two runs batted in were the offensive stars. Connie Barry threw a runner out at the plate from the outfield, but he was just tuning up for Sunday's game, when he preserved Kevin's shoutout with a major league one-hopper from left field against a runner trying to score after a deep fly ball.

If Saturday's game was good Sunday's contest at Reading was tremendous. First of all, Kevin Field shut out the opponents for the second consecutive Sunday. Wilmington scored early again

No less than five double plays were executed to snuff out Reading's opportunities. Lynn Billings, Peter Emery, Jimmy Melzar, Tom Payne, Connie Barry and Normie Heinze all made contributions to those twin killings which drew praise from Wilmington and Reading fans alike.

The game was a fitting climax to a long, but most successful season; and, in one sense, was a synopsis of the reasons for that success; steady pitching, superlative defense, and timely hitting.

CATCHER'S ERROR: When he threw the ball to a thirdbaseman who wasn't there, in the third inning of the first game, the Reading Catcher enabled the Town Crier to get a picture of three Tradesmen running bases at the same time.

Capt. Jimmy Melzar is crossing home plate, Tom Payne is leaving third for home, and Connie Barry, who thought he had just hit a single, is under full steam headed for third base. Melzar and Payne scored.

were able to garner nary a run nor a hit for Twelve Consecutive Innings!

Billy Kelly ended the Reading famine when he homered over the left field fence in the 7th inning, but the locals gut the run back in their half of the inning.

Leading 5-1 going into the ninth, Jeff faltered and gave up four singles. Fireman Kevin Field came in and put out the blaze however, and extinguished Reading's hopes with a fly ball to right and a strikeout to end the game.

when Tom Payne tripled to bring Jim Melzar home in the first inning. Lynn Billings double to center, and Field's single made it 2-0 in the fifth. Ron McRobbie added some insurance when he homered with Billings aboard in the 7th. A walk to Payne and singles by Barry and Billings brought in the fifth and final run in the eighth.

The real story of the game, though, was the defense. It was the defense which had saved Wilmington's bacon all summer long.

EXTENSIVE FIRE AND SMOKE DAMAGE: Was suffered yesterday morning, when fire struck the home of William Cram, on Salem Street. Firefighters could only perform their duty with the aid of gas masks. The fire started when cleaning fluids were spilled on the floor of the cellar.

The Usen Canning Company feels that their earthen dam will be menaced, by an increased flow of surface water, if the land is made into an industrial subdivision.

The DiCenso Brothers feel that there will be no increased flow of water, because only surface water will be allowed to flow into the pond.

Town Engineer Arthur Harding, Tuesday night, told the Planning Board of a meeting held in Woburn last week. Participating in the meeting with him and the City Engineer of Woburn were engineers representing DiCenso and the Usen Company.

Harding reported that the DiCenso engineer had photographs of the pond taken some time ago, and again this summer, which shows that the Usen Company had filled in a part of the pond.

His report of the discussion following the exhibition of the picture was that the Usen Company had filled in a part of the pond this summer, reducing its capacity from about 3,000,000 cubic feet of water to about 2,500,000 cubic feet.

Futher, Harding told the board, this had not been done in conformance with the provisions of the Hatch Act.

Harding had three opinions for the Wilmington Planning Board.

1. The major source of the water is probably the land west of Woburn Street, and not the DiCenso property. He told the board that there is a 24 inch pipe under Woburn Street, through which runs a small stream which drains an area which extends up as far as the Raffi & Swanson property on Eames Street.

2. The DiCenso property will not put more water into the pond, after it is developed, than is being put in under the circumstances. There may be a quicker flow, he said, but it will be the same amount of water.

3. The earthen dam is not properly constructed. There are no provisions for a 'run-off', normal to construction of such dams.

PVT. BOB GIVEN PROMOTED

Robert A. Given, Jr., 18, whose parents live on Mystic Ave., received an early promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 on completion of basic combat training at Fort Dix, N.J., August 5.

He was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of his score in firing the M-14 rifle, high score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership abilities.

Given, a 1966 graduate of Wilmington High School, entered the Army last June.

state's share. This sum is now $180,000, and the title has been changed to read Wilmington Bridges.

The County Budget, Mr Cain has advised the Town Manager, has also been increased with an additional $50,000 in Chapter 90 matching funds, and if the town should appropriate an additional $50,000 in 1966, the total sum of $360,000 would be available to replace as many bridges in Wilmington as the sum of money would cover.

Cain hopes that the entire sum of money will be available to the town within the next month.

TM Henneberger, who has been attending a meeting of Town Managers in Orono, Maine, returns home this morning.
